Texas Campaign's
8th Annual Symposium

DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel / Austin, Texas

Are you ready to be part of an exciting event? Don't miss your chance to join professionals from across Texas at our 8th annual Symposium where you will receive advanced training and technical support, have access to a network of experts with the latest information and best practices around teen pregnancy prevention and adolescent health, and connect with others doing similar work to network and discuss mutual interests and experiences.

The 2019 Plenary Lineup Includes:

Opening Keynote Speaker

Karen Rayne, PhD, CSE

Executive Director, UN|HUSHED

Dr. Rayne serves as the executive director of UN|HUSHED, an organization with international reach dedicated to creating and implementing the highest quality sexuality education curricula possible. An author, Dr. Rayne has worked in sexuality education for the past two decades with an expertise in parenting, comprehensive sexuality education, curriculum writing, and training. Her books include: GIRL: Love, Sex, Romance, and Being You and Breaking the Hush Factor: Ten rules for talking with teenagers about sex. She has also developed a wide range of curricula and other professional resources. Dr. Rayne has worked with the UNFPA, The Center for Sex Education, Girls Inc, and other organizations to bring them best practices approaches to sexuality education.

Closing Keynote Speaker

Rosalinda Mercado-Garza, PhD

E-Colors in Education Inc.

Since June 2013, Dr. Mercado-Garza has been chief executive officer of E-Colors in Education, a national not-for-profit organization, offering human performance and leadership coaching to K-12 and university students, educators, and leaders. Previously, she served as a school superintendent, principal and bilingual teacher. Additionally, Dr. Mercado-Garza taught an undergraduate education course at Texas A&M for two years after completing her master's. She wrote her dissertation on her life story, entitled "From Being Considered At-Risk to Becoming Resilient: An Autoethnography of Abuse & Poverty." In addition, she has been invited to share her narrative as a keynote speaker at various events across the country.

Panel: Minor Consent, Confidentiality & Reporting Requirements

Texas laws governing minor consent to health care, confidentiality, and mandatory reporting are among the most complex and confusing in the nation. Youth-serving professionals such as social workers, educators, and clinicians can face civil or even criminal liability as a result of not following these laws, but many professionals have an unclear understanding of what is required of them. This panel will feature experts from the fields of medicine, social work, law, and public policy and will focus on challenges related to minor consent to physical and mental health care, confidentiality, and mandatory reporting requirements.

Keegan Warren-Clem, JD, LLM

An attorney and founding director of Austin Medical-Legal Partnership, Ms. Warren-Clem works collaboratively with health care providers to improve health outcomes through legal assistance and education, and law-informed clinical practice transformation. An adjunct professor dually appointed at The University of Texas School of Law and McCombs School of Business, Ms. Warren-Clem challenges students and residents to explore connections between health, poverty, and unmet legal needs. She has published articles on public health law and policy, and the use of population health norms to understand outcomes of legal interventions.

Will Francis, LMSW

Will Francis is a Licensed Master Social Worker and the Government Relations Director for the National Association of Social Workers – Texas Chapter. Prior work experience includes positions with Child Protective Services, Travis County Juvenile Probation, and Mental Health America of Texas. Mr. Francis received a Master's in Social Work from The University of Texas at Austin and a Bachelor's Degree in English from Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia.

Celia Neavel, MD

With the support of People's Community Clinic, Dr. Neavel founded and continues to direct the Center for Adolescent Health and GOALS Program. She earned her Bachelor of Arts in Plan II Honors at The University of Texas at Austin and her medical degree at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. Board certified in Family Medicine with fellowship training in Adolescent Medicine, Dr. Neavel is recognized as a Top Doctor in Adolescent Medicine by Austin Monthly and a Super Doctor in Family Medicine by Texas Monthly. She gives national, state, and local talks on topics concerning adolescent health, reproductive health, and integrated behavioral health.
